Tuesday, March 5. 1723.

Constantinople, January 22.

THE Letters which the Marquess de Bonac, Ambassadour of France, received some Days ago from M. de Campredon, the French Minister at Moscow, contained among other Matters, a Request to him from the Russian Court, to second the Negotiations of the Czar's Minister here, who is ordered to acquaint the Ottoman Porte that the Intention of the Czar's Expedition into Persia, was only to bring his Enemies to Reason, especially the Persian Rebels; and that his Czarish Majesty, far from attempting any thing the least prejudicial to the Subjects of this Empire, or of the Cham of the Tartars, was always firmly resolved to observe religiously the last Treaty concluded with the Grand Signior. The Porte has taken under its Protection the Prince of Daghestan, of the Mahometan Sect: A Capigi Bashaw is to go to him in Quality of Envoy Extraordinary, and to present to him from the Grand Signior, a Sabre set with Diamonds, 30000 Chequins, and other valuable Gifts.

Moscow, Feb. 4. An Express being newly arrived from Persia, 'tis believed the Czar will defer his Journey to Olonitz. It is rumoured here, that the noted Miri-Ways having taken the City of Ispahan and reduced the whole Kingdom to his Obedience, has marched with a numerous Army and invested Derbent, so that the Place must in all likelihood be soon obliged to surrender. This News has put the whole Court here in Motion, it being easily foreseen that Miri-Ways, as soon as he has taken Derbent, will not stop there, but perhaps form a Design upon Astracan and Casan; which 'tis not unlikely the Porte would behold with a good Eye, and stand Neuter during the War. Young Prince Kurakin is appointed to be the Czar's Ambassadour at Paris, having resided there formerly.

Lisbon, Feb. 23. Advice from Faro in the Algarves say, that on the 27th past, between seven and eight in the Morning, a violent Earthquake was felt there, which, though it lasted but for the Space of one Minute, has done considerable Damage, equal to that which happened the 27th of December last at Tavira. The young Princess the Infanta Dona Maria is sick of the Small Pox, but 'tis believed not dangerously, her Royal Highness finding herself somewhat better since she was let Blood; the Prince of the Brasils and the other Infantes are removed on this Occasion from the Palace Royal to that do Paço.

Hague, March 5. Advice from all Parts of the North, mention not only a Design formed to burn the Danish Fleet in Copenhagen, but to surprise also, by the Assistance of some Emisaries, one of the King of Denmark's Town on the Coast of Norway, which has been fortunately discovered Time enough to prevent the same being put in Execution, and there are actually taken into Custody at Copenhagen Major-General Coyet, who quitted the Service of Sweden, and two or three other Officers of Note. The Letters from Copenhagen say, that the Process against the Bailiff Paul Juul is ended, who having confessed upon his being put to the Rack, and being fully convicted of the wicked Designs he had formed against his Country, Sentence will soon be pronounced against him, and the Proceedings printed. When he was carrying before the Commissioners of Enquiry, several Norwegian Sailors followed him among the Mob through the Streets, and cried, "See here the Villain, the Traytor, who has been false to the King," and agreed to betray his Country! -- Come, let us fall upon the Dog, and eat him in Pieces. -- And had certainly done so but for the Guards, who were doubled to keep him from their Fury as he returned back to Prison. The Admiralties are still here to concert Measures relating to fitting out the Squadron for the Mediterranean, in order to report them at the next Meeting of the States on the 10th Instant. The Zealand Deputation is expected here much about that Time, but that of Overyssel not so soon, the Meeting of those States being put off to the 17th Instant. The Gallies newly arrived at Cadix consist of 13 Ships, four being for the King's Account, and nine for the Merchants; their Cargoes contain 954 Sacks of fine Cochineile; 45 ditto of ordinary Cochineile; 708 of Indigo; 2859 of Cacao of Guayaquin; 498 ditto of Gelap. po; 30 ditto of Zirc; 3 Sacks of Contrayerva; 3334 of Leaf Tobacco; 1100 of Cascailla; 37 Chests of Banillas; 14 of Chocolate; 2 of Powder of Guaxaca; 156 for Presents; 3 Chests of Carrey; 25 of Coppal; 15 of Balm; 958 of Sugar; 4937 Sacks of Snuff; 14 of Wooll of Vicoigne; 2782 Quintals of Brazil Wood; 354 Boards of Guayaquin; 17611 dressed Hides and with Hair; 2 Sacks of Cotton; 1 Chest of Ambergris; and 2082 Plates of Copper.
